

THE VELENTS STORY

Velents is a super business software and app that helps both companies and employees by cutting down the time and expenses associated with the hiring process by more than half.

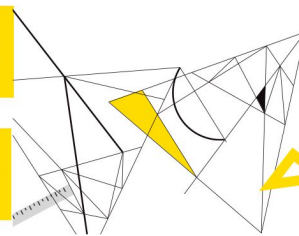

How? Using machine learning, video, and technology.

And we can proudly say, we've helped businesses reduce their costs by %60

and their hiring time by %80

We also want to help candidates find jobs, but CVs lack character and personal branding. If recruiters merely judged candidates based on their resumes - which is what happens now - many candidates will appear the same.

THE VELENTS STORY

We wanted to change that and highlight candidates' characters beyond the resume.

That's where Velents for Candidates comes in
We help job seekers create their personal brand using the Velents platform.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is an ambitious one.

We want to change the hiring process from long, tiresome, and costly to fast, efficient, and economical.

We want to trim the hiring process and the costs associated with it, while also helping recruiters find the most suitable candidates for their available vacancies, and help candidates find jobs easily while building their personal branding – all using software.

In addition, we want to help today's youth who are graduating from schools and universities to have the skills they need to work in today's job market.

How? Using Velents to assist companies that are looking for interns and fresh graduates from various universities.

It's time to upskill those graduates and bridge the job market gap.

VELENTS' QUEST TO CLOSE THE UNEMPLOYMENT GAP

The problem:

Companies are constantly struggling to find skilled young talents to join their ranks. At the same time, university students and graduates complete four or five or even six years of studies only to find that what they've learnt isn't exactly what companies are looking for.

And because of this gap, every time they apply for a job, they're not accepted because they're not qualified, resulting in a general state of disappointment not to mention higher unemployment.

In July 2021, the United States reported an unemployment rate of 5.4%. That said, many businesses report struggling to find suitable calibers for their vacancies

OUR MISSION:
BRIDGE THIS GAP

VELENTS FOR RECRUITERS AND COMPANIES

Our solution: Connect these companies with a wide range of graduates and undergraduates looking to upgrade their skills and enter the job market.

VELENTS FOR UNIVERSITY STUDENTS AND GRADUATES

Our solution: Bringing the skills to the students by connecting university graduates and undergraduates with companies for internships and entry-level jobs.

HOW VELENTS WORKS

Velents is an end-to-end portal where companies and recruiters can receive any number of CVs, get them analyzed so that they can interview the best candidates from the list.

At the same time, Velents enables candidates and university graduates to create profiles, build their personal brands, and find jobs.

Let's say you're recruiting for two social media specialists. Instead of getting a handful of applicants you get Five hundreds resumes .

Screening all of those resumes is time-consuming, not to mention, you'll have to interview dozens of candidates for only two positions.

HOW VELENTS WORKS

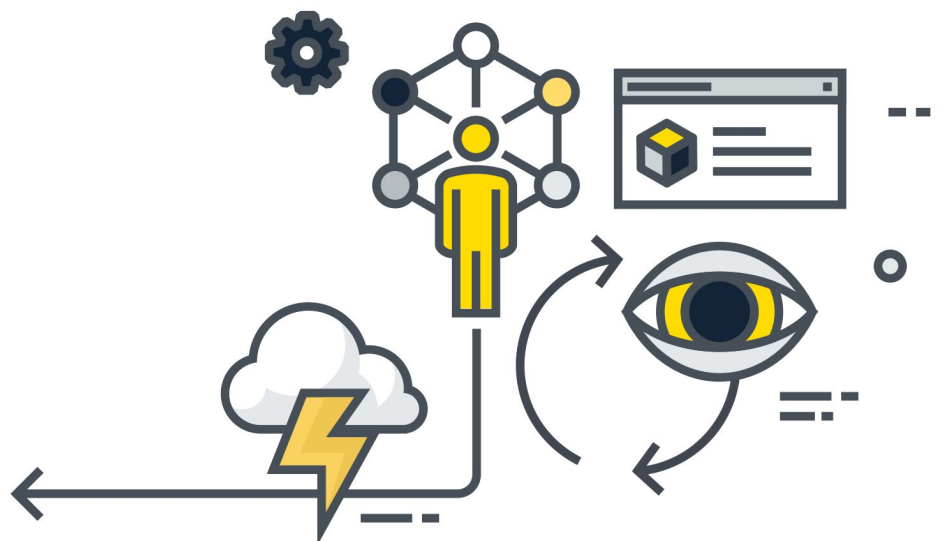

The solution? Velents will analyze these five hundred CVs for you, matching them with your job description and rank them by relevance and most suitable.

So, the five hundred CVs you received can get trimmed down to Fifty.

After that, recruiters can invite the candidates they see fit for an interview.

Using Velents again, recruiters can ask potential candidates to shoot a short video, which Velents will analyze with psychometric testing to showcase the best of the best.

After this process is complete, you can then interview these 'best of the best' candidates using a video or in-person interview.
